The XXIX International Symposium on Lattice Field Theory

Village at Squaw Valley, Lake Tahoe, California, USA

July 11 to July 16, 2011

Dear Colleagues,

-- We send you this bulletin because the deadline for hotel accommodations has now passed and the Village at Squaw Valley is now fully booked.

If you have not secured accommodations yet we again urge you to do so as soon as possible since Lake Tahoe is a popular summer destination.

This makes the Friday night of July 15 particularly difficult to reserve. For accommodations suggestions please see below.

Of course it is possible that spots may open at the Village at Squaw Valley or the other Village hotels because of cancellations and you may want to check (preferred way would be by phone).

-- The deadline for abstract submission is May 31 and will be strictly observed.

-- The deadline for early registration is May 31 and will be strictly observed.

Best wishes,
the LOC

Accommodations suggestions:

* There are two more hotels inside the Village and they are at the same distance to the conference rooms (about 2 minute walk).

Both are nearly booked as well so we urge you to reserve asap.

At this point it is best if you reserve by phone. When calling mention that you are with the Lattice 2011 conference group.

Also keep in mind that both of these hotels currently have more availability for the nights of Sunday July 10 to Thursday July 14.

It is the night of Friday July 15 that is a problem because of summer vacationers.

Therefore, if you can not find a room for the full period you could reserve for Sunday to Thursday and for Friday night stay with a friend or book accommodations outside the Village.
